The Boss' Pitch: Why Travel With BikeHike?

BikeHike Adventure's founder and director, Trish Sare, explains, " BikeHike Adventures is dedicated to offering high-quality, service driven, sustainable adventures worldwide. 2009 marks our 15th year of organizing active adventures and we've been ranked as one of the top adventure travel companies on the earth for the past two years by National Geographic Adventure Magazine. We have an extremely high return rate from our clients because they know that we take care of their every details, from the moment that they contact us, to the moment that they return home.

"They know that when they travel with us, they'll be travelers, not tourists. They will experience authentic cultures and get well off-the-beaten track. They'll be invited to family homes and guest at local weddings, for example. Our guides are all passionate cyclists, kayakers, hikers and adventurers. They are the type of guides who see a path on a mountainside and say: "I have to find out where that leads to, so venture out to scout the trail. They are all highly skilled professionals who are educators, naturalists, mechanics, epicurean cooks, leaders and great with people."
